Harbor ledger one

The lighthouse keeper recorded every vessel that crossed the northern channel today

Harbor ledger two

Volunteers carried the maps into the room and labeled each drawer beside the register

Harbor ledger three

Fishing boats arrived with silver baskets while neighbors delivered warm bread

Harbor ledger four

The evening tide rose gently over the dock and the lamps were counted twice

Harbor ledger five

Carpenters mended the pier before sunrise and stacked the planks beside the shed

Harbor ledger six

Children sketched the gulls above the bridge while a ferry crossed toward the island

Harbor ledger seven

Orchard growers weighed their crates today then shipped them upriver by barge
